CHAPTER 1

Getting Started

Your admin panel is a hidden control room behind the website. You don't need any usernames, accounts, or apps — just the password and a quick trick to open it.

How to log in

- Open the live site at slightlygiganticband.com.
- Scroll all the way to the bottom of any page.
- Find the small Slightly Gigantic logo or mark in the footer.
- Triple-click it within about one second.
- A password box appears — enter your admin password and you're in.

TIP The triple-click is intentional. It keeps the admin door invisible to regular fans, so the front of the site stays clean and nobody bumps into it by accident.

What the admin panel looks like

Once you're in, you'll see a single long page broken into cards — one for each part of the website (Hero, Bio, Music, Tour, Photos, Merch, Latest News, Text Club, Social, Contact, Analytics, Account Security). Edit any field directly. There is no complicated menu — just scroll down to the section you want to change.

A floating Save bar follows you at the bottom of the screen. Nothing goes live until you press it.

If you forget your password

Use the default — `slightly2026` — if no one has changed it yet. If someone has changed it and you can't reach them, contact Tony at A.G. Entertainment to reset it.

CHAPTER 2

The Hero & Bio

These are the first things fans see. Keep them sharp and up-to-date.

Hero section (top of homepage)

- Headline — your main statement (e.g. "Slightly Gigantic"). Keep it short.
- Tagline — one line under the headline. Tour name, new album, or vibe.
- Background image — Upload button takes any photo. It auto-resizes for the web (down to ~2400px), so you don't need to shrink it first.
- Primary button — text + link. Usually points to your latest single or tour page.

Bio section

- Short bio — 2 to 4 sentences. This is what bloggers and bookers copy/paste.
- Long bio — optional, for the full story. Press uses this.
- Band photo — group shot. Same auto-resizing applies.

TIP Photos are automatically downsized to a web-friendly size and converted from HEIC (iPhone format) to JPEG. You can drag straight from your phone — no Photoshop needed.

Writing tips

- Lead with what makes this band different — sound, story, or scene.
- Use present tense. "Slightly Gigantic is..." not "was formed in..."
- End with the call to action: stream, tour, or text club.

CHAPTER 3

Music

Show off your releases and make them one click away from playing.

Adding a song or album

- Press Add Song in the Music card.
- Title — track or album name.
- Cover art — square image works best (1:1).
- Streaming links — Spotify, Apple Music, YouTube, Bandcamp. Paste the full link.
- Embed code (optional) — paste a Spotify or YouTube embed for an inline player.

Reordering

Drag the handle on the left of each song card to reorder. Newest release at the top is the safest default.

Removing a song

Press the Remove button on the song card, then Save. The change is reversible until you hit Save — once saved, it's gone from the public site (but you can always re-add it).

How to grab a Spotify embed

In Spotify desktop or web, right-click a track → Share → Embed track. Copy the code that starts with `<iframe ...` and paste it into the Embed field. Apple Music and YouTube work the same way.

CHAPTER 4

Tour Dates

Keep this current — it's the single most-checked section on most band sites.

Adding a show

- Press Add Show.
- Date — use the date picker.
- Venue — name of the room.
- City & State — keep it short ("Milwaukee, WI").
- Ticket link — paste the URL where fans can buy tickets. If tickets aren't up yet, leave it blank and the button will read "Coming Soon."
- Status — On Sale / Sold Out / Cancelled. The site shows the right badge automatically.

Past shows

The site automatically hides shows once the date has passed — you don't need to delete them. If you want to keep a clean record, you can remove them manually any time.

TIP Always add the announcement to Latest News the day a tour drops. Fans don't always scroll to the Tour section — a news card pushes it front and center.

Photos & Merch

Two simple grids: one for the photo gallery, one for merch.

Photo gallery

- Press Add Photo and choose a file from your phone or computer.
- Add an optional caption — credit the photographer here.
- Drag to reorder. The first image is the featured one.
- Press Remove on any photo to delete it.

Merch

- Press Add Item.
- Product name — "Tour Tee — Black", "Vinyl — Self-Titled", etc.
- Product photo — clean shot on a neutral background works best.
- Price — what shoppers pay.
- Buy link — your Bandcamp, Shopify, or merch store URL.
- Mark Sold Out on the toggle if stock is gone — the card stays visible but the button is disabled.

You can upload from your phone directly. HEIC (iPhone) is auto-converted to JPEG, and everything is downsized to roughly 2400px on the long edge with quality 0.9. The original stays on your phone — only the optimized version is sent to the web.

CHAPTER 6

Latest News

Short announcements — new singles, tour adds, press hits, anything timely.

Adding a news post

- Press Add News.
- Headline — "New Single Out Friday" works better than "Update".
- Date — defaults to today; change if you want to backdate.
- Image — optional but recommended. Cover art, photo, or flyer.
- Body — 2 to 5 sentences. Link out for the full story.
- Link (optional) — adds a "Read More" button to the card.

How many to keep

Three to five recent posts is the sweet spot. Older ones can stay — they don't take up much room and they help search engines understand the band is active.

TIP Pair every news post with a Text Club blast (next chapter). Same message, two channels — that's how releases break out of the algorithm.

CHAPTER 7

Text Club

Your direct line to the most engaged fans. Powered by EZ Texting.

How fans sign up

When the Text Club is turned on, a Join the Text Club button appears on the homepage. Fans click it and a small popup opens — they enter their phone number, agree to terms, and they're in. The form is hosted by EZ Texting; the data flows straight to your account there.

Turning it on or off

- In the admin panel, find the Text Club card.
- Toggle Show Join Text Club button on or off.
- You can also paste a custom URL in URL override if you ever want the button to point somewhere else (a Linktree, a campaign page, etc.). Leave it blank to use the built-in EZ Texting popup.

Sending a text blast

That happens inside EZ Texting (not in this admin panel). Log into your EZ Texting account, compose a message, pick the Slightly Gigantic list, and send. The website only handles signups.

Best practices for texts

Texts have a near-100% open rate — use sparingly. One per release, one per tour announcement, and one for special moments (sold-out shows, surprise drops). Anything more and people unsubscribe.

CHAPTER 8

Social, Contact & Analytics

Social links

Paste the full URL for each platform — Instagram, TikTok, YouTube, Spotify, Apple Music, Bandcamp, Facebook, X/Twitter. Leave any blank that you don't use and the icon won't appear.

Contact form

Fans, bookers, and press all use the contact form on the site. Messages are delivered to the band's email via Formspree — you don't need to log in anywhere to receive them. To change the recipient, contact Tony at A.G. Entertainment.

Analytics

- Page views — how many times the homepage loaded.
- Unique visitors — how many separate people (approximate).
- Top sections — which parts of the site fans actually scrolled to.
- Button clicks — taps on streaming, tour, merch, text club.
- Range — switch between Last 7 / 30 / 90 days.

TIP Check analytics after every release or tour announcement. If the news landed, you'll see the daily visitors jump for 2–3 days. If it didn't, you know to push harder on socials.

CHAPTER 9

Account Security

Change your admin password whenever someone joins or leaves the band — or any time it has been shared too widely.

Changing your password

- Scroll to the Account Security card at the bottom of the admin panel.
- Type your current password.
- Type the new password (6 characters or more) and type it again to confirm.
- Optional: check Show passwords to see what you're typing.
- Press Change Password. A confirmation prompt asks you to verify.
- You'll be logged out automatically and sent back to the login screen — log in with your new password.

TIP Pick something memorable to the band but not guessable from the website — a tour-year combo, an in-joke, a song lyric mashup. Avoid the band name itself, '2024', '2025', 'password', etc.

If you get locked out

There is no "forgot password" link. If everyone in the band forgets the password, contact Tony at A.G. Entertainment to reset it directly in the database. Keep at least two band members in the loop on any change — write it down somewhere safe.

Why it asks for the old password

It's a safety check. Even if someone walks up to an unlocked laptop, they can't lock the rest of the band out without knowing the current password.

CHAPTER 10

Saving & Publishing

Nothing is live until you hit Save. After that, it's live within seconds.

The Save bar

A bar floats at the bottom of the admin page. The moment you change anything — even a single character — it lights up. Press Save to push the change to the live website.

Discarding changes

If you change your mind before saving, press Discard to throw away your edits and reload the current live version. After Save, the previous version is gone — there is no built-in undo.

How fast changes appear

Updates are usually visible to fans within 5–10 seconds. If you don't see your change immediately, do a hard refresh (Ctrl+Shift+R on Windows, Cmd+Shift+R on Mac) — your browser may be showing a cached copy.

Previewing before publishing

Open the live site in a second browser tab while you edit. Save, then refresh that tab — you'll see exactly what fans see. This is the safest way to verify a change looks right before you share the URL anywhere.

CHAPTER 11

Troubleshooting

Problem	What to try
Triple-click doesn't open admin	Click faster — all 3 clicks need to happen within about a second. Click directly on the logo mark, not the text around it.
Password isn't accepted	Caps Lock? Re-type slowly. Default is slightly2026. If it was changed and lost, contact Tony at A.G. Entertainment.
I saved but the website looks the same	Hard refresh the public site (Ctrl+Shift+R on Windows, Cmd+Shift+R on Mac). Try a different browser or device to rule out caching.
My photo won't upload	Very large files (over ~25 MB raw) are rejected. If it's a heavy raw photo, export a smaller JPEG first. HEIC (iPhone) is supported.
A field won't accept my text	Some fields have character limits. Shorten the text or split it between headline and body.
The Save button is greyed out	Nothing has changed since the last save — that's normal. Make an edit first, then Save will activate.
I see an error message after Save	Usually a brief connection blip. Try again. If it keeps happening, take a screenshot of the error and send it to Tony.

Still stuck?

Take a screenshot of what you're seeing (Windows: Win + Shift + S) and send it to Tony at A.G. Entertainment. The more specific the screenshot — including the URL bar and any error message — the faster it gets fixed.
